Individually and custom designed homes – build by your sustainable construction partner

If you plan to build your home on the values of good design, reliability and sustainability – German Homes - Wolf Haus is your construction partner. We are established over 100 years ago and have built up a reputation for good craftsmanship by erecting homes all over Europe. Tradition goes hand in hand with our own state-of-the-art construction facility in Germany to build individually designed low energy and passive homes – according to your own house design and specification. Our construction is recognised and monitored by mortgage lenders and independent institutions.

We build your home completely turn-key-finish including kitchen, sanitary ware etc. or just the main house construction. German Homes - Wolf Haus is committed to erect your sustainable home in time and on budget. A fixed price guarantee and a fast construction period is another great advantage, that you as our valued customer can benefit from. The house construction is carried out by our skilled craftsmen and supervised by our siteforeman to guarantee a high quality finish and smooth building schedule.
