

Building The Future Today

German Homes Ltd is a construction company based in Ireland, committed to build low energy and passive houses in the country and the UK.

Active since 2003, we build A-energy rated and sustainable homes completely turn-key-finish from A to Z including basements and foundations. The basements are 100% water proofed and highly insulated in order to convert them into living space, wine cellars, home cinema, play room etc. A fixed price guarantee is given for our work and services. German Homes offers a healthy and comfortable living climate with a low carbon footprint. Common or alternative heating systems like geothermal heat pumps, air water heat pumps, solar panels etc., as well as a choice of different insulation like eco hemp or wooden fibre insulation, are available.

We build homes according to our customers own design, completely individual. We have implemented special requirements for people with disability and elderly people like wider door openings or wheelchair friendly bathrooms to improve the living standard and safety. Our customers are invited to Germany to choose all the fittings and fixtures including kitchens, sanitary, wall- and floor finishes.
